FOR LEWISVILLE.

One difference between Max Wagner of Lewisville, and General Wagner of Charleston, is that the General was a soldier and Max was not.

The Great Eastern Circus advertises "Gods and Goddesses" in Original costume.

Original costume!—cold weather!—won't do!

Messrs Kohu & Bro. have put down their prices to suit the present panic. These gentlemen are fully up to the times in every thing. Their large advertisement in another column speaks loud.

When the members of the other fair committees were troubled about deciding anything they "tossed up" for it. The tossing committee found it necessary to "toss down" before coming to any conclusion whatever.

SOMEWHAT REMARKABLE—

It appears from the conversation of disappointed exhibitors that the best articles at the fair were those to which no premiums were awarded. Well, tot homines, &c.—the varieties of hominy are various as those of corn.

T. B. Boyd Esq. has just gone and done it. What! Why opened one of the finest assortment of shoes ever offered here, and is not afraid to let the people know it, through the columns of this Journal.

"Go for him"—or, rather, for his boots and shoes.

A lady from Beaufort contributed to our fair a bottle of home-grown olives. One of the "tasting committee" found that "them pickled bullaces," as he styled them, were, when taken in doses of a round dozen or more, decidedly calculated to produce a resignation from that highly popular and self-sacrificing committee.

ALL ENTERPRISE.

Our friend Augustus Fischer has fitted up the store recently occupied by the Enterprise saloon and opened a full stock of family Groceries, fruits &c. The Saloon has been moved to the rear of the Grocery store and is arranged in the best style, with a choice lot of the finest liquors, and with Dr. Butler at the bar ever ready to serve the public with a good eye-opener at the shortest notice. See advertisement in this issue.

The Bank has removed from in front of the News Office to Patterson's new building. Riley is consequently disconsolate. Visions of greenbacks no longer flit before his eyes as he sits looking at the place where so much money once had a habitation. He says that life has no longer any pleasure for him, and that he never felt himself quite so much of a "devil" as at present. Peace, troubled soul!—take philosophy to thy weary bosom, uneasy Riley!—For not the only one art thou whose heart strings have been wrung by musing upon what "might be" while looking upon that which "used to was." He no longer riled, O! Riley.

A young mother, babe in arms, stood on the Railroad platform, awaiting the train which was to carry her and her little one to their husband and father in the "up country." The mother was beautiful to gaze upon. Plump and healthy-looking was the young darling. The door of the Station house opened, and a gust of fetid, foul and fiery atmosphere blew like a simoom upon that fair young babe. The infant stifled in convulsions and died in two and a half seconds; the mother in two seconds more was a raving maniac! Alas and ah! woe! and a well-a-day—the little one has gone to the "up country," but it is a very high-up country indeed, and it went via one of Riggs' patent hermetically sealed coffins.

Dr. Wistar's Wild Cherry Balsam. This Balsamic compound has become a home fixture. Let all who suffer, and have in vain attempted to cure their coughs, colds, bronchial or pulmonary complaints, make use of this unequalled remedy. It can be relied upon, the mass of testimony that has been published since its introduction being ample proof of its efficacy.

THE GREAT EASTERN MENAGERIE.
This comprehensive and elaborate establishment—pronounced one of the greatest combinations of caravan, museum, hippodrome, aquarium and circus on the road—with all its colossal and wondrous proportions, will visit our Town on Thursday the 21st of November. The Agent informs us that the Great Eastern does not divide itself into two or three shows, but will come here in full force.

The Louisville Commercial of March 12th says:

"GREAT EASTERN MENAGERIE AND CIRCUS—OPENING PERFORMANCES.—This colossal exhibition, the ne plus ultra of scenic and zoological excellencies, opened on the corner of East Chestnut street to a very fine audience in point of numbers and respectability, and at night there was a perfect jam of breathing humanity, thousands being turned away, unable to gain admission on account of the crowded state of the immense pavilions. The procession in the forenoon of yesterday through the principal avenues of the city is conceded the most imposing and gorgeous ever made here. The whole was enlivened with excellent music from the several bands. Of the exhibition itself, too much in just commendation cannot be said. The night performance was unfortunately marred by the severe wind and disaster which so suddenly terminated the exhibition, but the afternoon entertainment was smooth, most agreeable and instructive. The animal collection is much the largest ever seen here, embracing thirty odd dens of living specimens from the old and new world. With the circus the audience were delighted, and manifested their approbation by warm and repeated applause. The equestrianism is especially unexcelled. The acrobatic and gymnastic exercises were wonderful, and elicited much remark from the enthusiastic visitors."

A married woman, named Catherine McGowan, died in Augusta, Monday evening, from the effects of intemperance.

The times must be sadly out of joint when it is announced that "the New Haven Clock Works can run only eight hours a day."

"How does that look, eh?" said a bifisted Wall street man to a friend, holding up one of his brawny hands. "That," said the friend, "looks as though you'd gone short on soap."

"Have the jury agreed?" asked the sheriff, as he met a court attaché on the stairs with a large pitcher in his hands. "Yes, sir; they agreed to have a gallon of beer, and sent me out for it."

A prominent bookselling firm in New Orleans received, the other day, an order for books from a country customer, among which appeared the following: "2 cop Lon Seal, 2 cop Don Quixotte and 2 cop Tenerson."

The proprietor of a young ladies' academy in Illinois has utterly ruined his business by causing to be inserted in a large number of papers a picture of the building, with two girls on the balcony with last year's hats on their heads.

"I say, printer, do you take Mahatman money?"

"No."

"What's the reason—ain't it good?"

"Yes."

"Why don't you take it, then?"

"Can't get it."

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
